

Performance Oils display a stunning Jaguar XJR5 006

There will certainly be a crowd around the Performance Oils display all weekend. Their centrepiece is the Jaguar XJR5 006, which famously won the Miami GP in 1984.

Made in Virginia USA in 1983, it was the personal car of Brian Redman and Hurley Hayward, and was a Jaguar Official Works entry at Le Mans in 1984 and 1985.

This is the only Jaguar Le Mans car of the modern era that races continually in historic and other events. It has been campaigned by Performance Oils Ltd since 2000 with many successes, including winning the Copenhagen GP in 2009 against modern machinery.

Performance Oils intend to display the car with the engine cover off to allow visitors to walk around and see the inner workings of the car.
